WANT TO REACH A NEW AUDIENCE?

who you talk to
means something...

The Proving Ground started as a gun range, but quickly it has become much more. What we have built and continue to grow is a community around training and learning. This is a place for members to practice, trainers to teach, and friends to share.

Because of Social Media Rules our reach is organic, which means that people listen because they want to, not because you spent more money. Our audience is industry interested and takes the community advice seriously. Whether you are a firearms company or not, an attentive and voluntary audience is priceless.
